

DOMESTIC UNHAPPINESS

Mrs. Pearl Williamson's Story in Divorce
Suit Differs from Her Husband'sHe Enters Suit Against Her Parents for Alien-ating Her Affections—Judgment Against Boiler Makers' Union—Court Items.

Pearl Williamson yesterday filed suit in the Circuit Court asking that she be granted a divorce from George Williamson. She alleges that they were married Nov. 18, 1891, and that on the 1st of January, following, her husband assaulted her, knocked her down and kicked her. That he applied vile and abusive epithets to her, until upon the 23d day of March, 1892, she left him and returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Kinnick, residing at No. 45 Barth avenue. On the 18th day of February a child was born to them, and Friday morning Williamson went to the residence on Barth avenue and demanded the child, and threatened violence to the mother in case it was not given to him. In her complaint Mrs. Williamson said that she feared that her husband would do her bodily harm and asked that a restraining order be issued, which petition was granted by Judge Taylor. Later in the afternoon Williamson filed suit against Mattie and Samuel E. Kinnick, asking $5,000 damages for the alleged alienation of her husband's affections. She alleged that after their marriage in 1891 he and his wife, daughter of the defendants, lived happily together, that the defendants, then residing in New York City, clandestinely corresponded with his wife with a view of alienating her affection, and that on the third day of March, during his absence from home, they induced his wife to leave his home and return to them. He says that his home was locked against him and when he attempted to have a conversation with her at the home of her parents he was refused admission and ordered from the premises.

Suit Against the Union.

Justice Hahb yesterday gave Carter L. Ray judgment for $12.50 against the Boiler Makers' Helpers' Union, No. 1. Ray, who is a member of the union, was sick eleven weeks, and sued the union for sick benefits. The defense was that he was not in good standing, but the court held that he was. The construction of that section of the bylaws providing for sick benefits was one of the disputed points. This section provided that in case of sickness of a member an assessment of 25 cents per member should be made for his benefit. There was nothing said as to whether this assessment should be made weekly or but once, and the court held that it should be made but once. The case will probably be appealed to a higher court.

Police Court Doings.

Acting Cadi Bell yesterday fined Jeff Hughes, colored, $1 and costs for assault and battery upon John Rounds, also colored. Gus Monroe was charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. His case was continued until March 7. William Rains was fined $1 and costs for assault and battery upon his wife, Con Shime was fined $1 and costs for assault and battery, and released on commitment. He was one of the participants in a three-cornered fight in Mike Lued's saloon, on South West street.

Probate Matters.

Christian Brink was yesterday appointed administrator of the estate of his wife, Viola Brink, and guardian of his three-year-old daughter. George Rech was appointed administrator of the estate of Matthias Rech, and William C. White administrator of the estate of Zachary White. Adelaide Atkins was appointed administratrix of the estate of George W. Atkins, and qualified by giving bond in the sum of $12,000.

Vaw's Difficulties with Employers.

C. E. Vaw has begun suit against the Indianapolis Varnish Company, alleging that on Jan. 16 he was engaged by the company and started to work for them as traveling salesman. On Feb. 28 he was called in from St. Joseph, Mo., and summarily discharged, no cause being assigned for his dismissal. He asks judgment for two months' employment at $75 per month.

Shutters Neglected His Child.

Judge Brown yesterday gave the Board of Children's Guardians custody of Gertrude, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Shade Shutters. The girl's mother was arrested five nights ago for arson, but was acquitted in the Police Court. The evidence showed that her father was a dissipated man, and that the child was neglected by her mother.

Canfield Accused of Fraud.

Theodore Vail yesterday filed suit against Woods P. Canfield, the bailiff in the Criminal Court, asking judgment for $1,000 upon a note, and that a conveyance of real estate made by the defendant to his wife be set aside as made in fraud of creditors.

Court Notes.

The defendants in the suit of Thomas Young, Jr., and others against Thomas Young, Jr., and others, to set aside the will of Dr. James Young, have filed a motion for a new trial.

In Room 3 of the Superior Court, yesterday afternoon, Judge Harper severed the tie that bound Mattie A. Miller to John J. Miller and also released Frank Hickey from an irksome union with Emma Hughey.

WORLD'S FAIR MONOGRAPH.

Women in Charge Make Another Appeal to Officers of Woman's Clubs.

The Monograph on the Associated Work of the Women of Indiana is not progressing as rapidly as could be desired, because of the delay in getting the necessary information. Circulars have been sent to every club, society and other organization of women whose address could be secured, and repeated newspaper notices have been given. Hundreds of responses have been received, but it is certain there are many yet to hear from. Mrs. Ida A. Harper, who has been selected to prepare the monograph, wants the name, the number of members, the objects and all possible information regarding every club, society or association of any kind, composed exclusively of women, in the interests of literature, education, music, art, labor, industries, charities, reform, religion, etc., in the State of Indiana. If such organizations desire to be enrolled in the record which is being prepared for the Columbian exposition, and which will be placed in the Free Public Library for permanent reference, it will be necessary for their secretaries to send the required information at once, to Mrs. Harper, at 139 North Pennsylvania street, Indianapolis. If this is not done no complaint should be made when their members look over the records and find they are not represented.

A SPOILS JOKE.

Bogus Telegram from Gresham Caused Him to Wonder Where He Was "at" in St. Louis.

A well-known banker of this city who is an inveterate joker played one on a friend recently that succeeded beyond expectations. The friend, who is an applicant for an office in the State Department under the new administration had occasion a short time ago to go to St. Louis. The day he was expected home the banker had a telegram fixed up, saying, "I regret to say that your conduct while in St. Louis will make it impossible for me to appoint you to the position you desire." Signed, W. Q. Gresham. This telegram was delivered to the friend as soon as he reached home. At once he began to rub his eyes and tried to remember who's conduct in St. Louis had been so bad that he had done to justify that kind of snipe judgment. He could not understand why he should have been shadowed in St. Louis, nor could he recall anything that he had done derogatory to the character of a gentleman. Yet there was the dispatch, and he concluded that in some hilarious or unguarded hour he must have done something dreadful. Accepting the situation with the best grace he could, he concluded that his cake was all dough and his chance of official preferment gone glimmering. He was thoroughly miserable for a whole day, and lost one night's sleep before the banker relented and made a clean breast of it. At first the friend could hardly believe that the terrible telegram was a joke, but when he realized the truth he fell upon the banker's neck and clawed his hair. The penalty was a bottle of wine.

FAVOR THE APPROPRIATION

More Interviews Showing Public Sentiment as to the Encampment.

Indianapolis Has a Record to Make, and It Will Made Will Be Worth Thousands of Dollars—Tax is the Most Equitable Way.

That the City Council should grant the seventy-five-thousand-dollar appropriation asked for to meet the expenses of the Grand Army encampment is sustained by a sentiment that is looking to the welfare of the city. There is, as far as one can judge through repeated inquiry, no direct opposition to the proposition. Most men believe that no money could be better expended in advancing the prosperity of Indianapolis. They believe in pushing things and realizing on everything that will place the city much farther in advance of the condition it has already reached. There are others who regard the encampment as a patriotic investment; others still who view it in the light of business, but whether they belong to the first or second class, all are glad the veterans were invited to Indiana. Those citizens are by far the majority, and the sentiment that comes from them in favor of the appropriation has about fixed the fact that it will be granted.

There have been several hundred taxpayers interviewed recently on this question, and whatever were the personal preferences, some said they did not hesitate to set their assets and to fall in with the majority to sustain a measure from which, they admitted, they only would receive great good. In no instance has there been a negative answer to the fairness of the appropriation, nor has there been any denial of the claim that the encampment will be a great benefit to the city. The only difference, taking the conclusion from their interview, is that some would like to have the money raised by subscription, but no one with that preference has yet been found who says that can be done. All too say that the tax the appropriation will require will be very small. Another thing in favor of that tax, it is urged, is that it will not be due until 1894, and that upon an increased valuation of city property. At once it puts $75,000 more in circulation and gives work to hundreds. It is providing a means by which millions of dollars will be brought to the city.

Col. I. N. Walker said yesterday that he believed the appropriation would be made. If it was not, the city would receive a backset, and would, in all probability, result in the encampment being taken away from Indianapolis and located at one of the several cities that even now is ready and anxious to receive it, but he thought there was too much loyalty in Indianapolis to permit that to be done.

Thaddeus S. Rollins remarked that the appropriation ought to be made. If not the city will be the loser; if it is, it will be greatly the gainer.

John C. Brush said Indianapolis, in regard to the encampment, had a record to make and it must be made. He said that in the city where the veterans have assembled, "The appropriation," he continued, should be made without further hesitation or discussion.

W. W. Herod is decidedly of the opinion that the city ought to make the appropriation.

John R. Conner has no hesitancy in supporting the request for the $75,000 from the city. "It is an equitable way," he remarked, "of meeting the expenses of the encampment. Whatever advantage there is in having the encampment accrues in a measure to all, and all should be called upon to help in providing the means."

Daniel H. Wiles is of the opinion that the Council should not hesitate in making the appropriation. "It would be a bad thing for the city," he said, "if it should refuse to give money."

S. D. Fray does not think the city can afford to take any chance in regard to the matter. "The appropriation," he remarked, "should be made. The invitation has gone forth, and Indianapolis must see that the pledges attending that invitation are fulfilled."

ORDERS DEFIED.

Garbage Haulers in Oak Hill Cause a Nuisance to Be Abated.

In the Police Court yesterday morning another continuance was taken in the case against Isaac Reed, charged with failing to obey a notice of the Health Board. Reed is a garbage hauler residing at Oak Hill, which is partially within the city limits. In this vicinity is a regular colony of garbage haulers, all of whom raise dogs, and the garbage gathered in the city is taken to their places and dumped upon the ground for the dogs. The trench arising from this is obnoxious, and the Health Board has taken steps to have the nuisance abated. Reed was notified two weeks ago to clean up his premises, but paid no attention to the order.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Young Men at Broad Ripple Quarrel and One Dangerously Shot.

Lynn Campbell shot and seriously wounded Fred McNulty during a quarrel at Broad Ripple yesterday afternoon. Both are young men residing in Broad Ripple and well known in this city. They became involved in a quarrel over a trivial matter and McNulty, it is said, became aggressive and threatened violence to Lynn, when the latter shot him in self-defense. The ball from Campbell's pistol entered just below the heart, and it is impossible to tell what the result of the wound may be. Up to a late hour last night Campbell had not been arrested.

State Health Board Appointments. Governor Matthews, Auditor Henderson and Secretary Myers yesterday appointed two new members on the State Board of Health. The appointees were Dr. L. L. Whiteside, of Franklin, and Dr. D. C. Ramsey, of Mount Vernon. They succeed Dr. T. J. Dill, of Fort Wayne, and Dr. S. R. Seawright, of Lafayette. Timothy Griffin was also reappointed custodian of the Statehouse for a term of four years.

Miss Reid One of Them. Managers Abbey & Gran have leased the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, which is to be rebuilt, and have engaged the following soloists for next season: Melba, Calve, Eames, Jean and Edward McRae and Lusselle of the Grand Opera House, Paris; Margaret Reid and Nordica. Miss Reid is now singing in opera in Vienna.

FIRST CITIZEN OF AMERICA

Gen. Benjamin Harrison to Be Welcomed Home by Old Neighbors and Friends.

Full Details of To-Morrow's Interesting Reception at Union Station and the Statehouse—Grand Marshal's Order—Notes.

The committee on arrangements in charge of the reception to General Harrison on his return to his home in this city, which will occur to-morrow, Monday, met at Postmaster Thompson's room yesterday afternoon and completed the arrangements for that event. It was determined that Mayor Sullivan, vice chairman, with twelve members of the reception committee, will meet General Harrison at some point on the Panhandle road and accompany him to this city. Governor Matthews, the chairman of the reception committee, will be detained at home by official duties, Monday being the last day of the session of the Legislature. The General and party will be received at the Union Station at 10:30 A. M. and received informally by a number of organized bodies and citizens and will be placed in carriages.

Grand Marshal Kneller has issued the following order: The organizations desiring to take part in the reception of General Harrison will take position on either side of Illinois street north of the station. As it is the intention not to make any display, the carriages containing General Harrison and suite and the reception committee will pass through the lines formed on Illinois street, thence on Washington street to Pennsylvania, Massachusetts avenue, Delaware to the residence.

FRED KNEFLER, Grand Marshal.

THE EVENING RECEPTION. This will occur at the Statehouse, between the hours of 8 and 10 P. M. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Gov. Claude Matthews, as the head of the State, and Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks, on behalf of the citizens of Indianapolis, to which General Harrison will respond. Mayor Sullivan will preside. After the speeches General Matthews and Mrs. McKee, assisted by Governor and Mrs. Matthews, and Mayor and Mrs. Sullivan, will receive in the rotunda.

NOTES. The various Grand Army posts will meet at the station at 9:30 A. M. The members of the Seventieth Regiment Indiana Volunteers will act as the personal escort of General Harrison and suite in the morning.

The Builders' Exchange decided at the regular meeting last night to carry out in a body at 10:30 A. M. All members of the Exchange are earnestly requested to meet at Exchange Hall in time to march in a body to Union Station.

The Washington-street entrance of the Statehouse will be opened at 8 o'clock. The exits will be by the north, east and west entrances. The members of the various committees are requested to report at the Tennessee-street entrance.

The German-American Club, whose name was omitted in the printed list by accident, will participate in the reception. This club contains many of the leading Germans of the city, including some of General Harrison's personal friends.

General Fred Kneller, grand marshal, has announced the following assistants: Adjutant-general Robbins and staff, Geo. W. Spahr, Colonel Smith, Dr. R. S. Oliver, Allan Hendricks, Jacob Hantach, Otto Stechhan, Howard Cole, Samuel Laing, Bert Adams, C. C. Foster, Ad Hereth.

Gen. M. D. Manson has been selected to represent the Soldiers' Monument Commission on the reception committee. W. R. Holloway will make the presentations to General Harrison and Mrs. McKee at the evening reception. A large number of the most prominent of the city will be present at the evening reception.
